WINTER GROOMING TIPS

Looked in your dog's mouth lately? Can't stand the "doggie breath"?

The months of January, February and March are commonly recognized by many veterinarians as doggie dental health month. Periodontitis is a painful disease that is dangerous to your dog's overall health. While its diagnosis can only be made by a veterinarian, its prevention is entirely up to you. There are three methods of prevention. Click here to read more.

FEBRUARY DOG OF THE MONTH

CHARLIE LOGAN

Charlie Logan is our special valentine this year. Charlie is a three and a half year old male pug who lives with his mom and dad, Tom and Sylvia. He also has a pet cat at home. Charlie has come to play with us a Paws In Time since he was a young puppy. During the month of January, Charlie entered our own version of Biggest Loser. He had had a bit too much celebrating over the past couple of years and had gotten himself up to 34.5 pounds. Now regretting his decision to eat those extra cookies and treats (you know, the "just one more won't hurt" syndrome) he and his parents made the decision to have him come stay at Paws In Time for a month of concentrated work on his waist line. As of the writing of this note, he has lost 5 pounds with a few more to go. Charlie is working out each day on the treadmill and playing hard with his friends. When he started on the treadmill, he could barely make it walking for 15 minutes. Now, stronger and leaner, he runs at 2.4 mph for 20 minutes!!!! Way to go Charlie. Houston, we have a waist line and the neck is coming back!!!! We are all so proud of Charlie for his dedication to the program.
